1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Supreme Court of Pakistan, sitting as a Constitutional Bench, is reviewing multiple civil petitions concerning earlier judgments related to electoral matters. The petitions involve various political parties and the Election Commission of Pakistan as petitioners and respondents, respectively. A recent reconstitution of the Bench occurred due to the recusal of a member, and the initial hearing resulted in the dismissal of all review petitions by two judges. The Court has scheduled further hearings to provide detailed reasons for its decisions.
